ALEXANDRIA NEWS NOTES

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 6.-The one subject of conversation in Alexandria today is tomorrow's election.

Although the Democrats do not fear defeat, the city Democratic committee has issued a circular letter calling upon all Democrats to go to the polls to morrow and real up a big majority for the nominees. John Henderson, the Republican candidate for the house of delegates from this district, is making a hard fight to carry the county, but James R. Caton, the Democratic nominees. Will probably carry Alexandria with nee, will probably carry Alexandria with

CHEAPER TO BE APRESTED.

"Some people have a horror of being arrested," said a young man of convivial habits. "but really it isn't half vivial habits, "but, really, it 'sn't half such a bad thing—at times. Now the other night I was out with a party of friends. Along about 2 a.m. a dispute arose in an uptown restaurant, which resulted in the waiters trying to put us out. In the scuffle a big plate-glass door was smashed, and when the police arrived I was confronted with the alternative of paying the proprietor $22 or he. native of paying the proprietor $23 or being arrested. As I had just $3 with me, I chose the latter alternative. One me, I chose the latter alternative. One place was as good as another for me to sleep in, and I spent the rest of the night in the Tenderloin station, under an assumed name, of course.
